

Considering what you let Rupert Murdoch &c. get away with, it seems particularly unfair to stifle satellite radio. If you level the playing field, maybe XM and Sirius will be sufficiently profitable to make large donations to W's re-election funds.